ECSS Metropolis Ruhr 2017, Great number of abstracts submitted

Posted on March 28, 2017 by Abdul Rahim in OTHER SPORTS No Comments

Germany, Mar 27, 2017: METROPOLIS RUHR 2017, The ECSS is delighted to announce it has received 1740 abstracts during the open abstract submission process for the 22nd Annual Congress of the European College of Sport Science.

The abstracts have been through a thorough review by the local scientific committee and the accepted abstracts are now being placed in the programme.

The notification of acceptance to authors is visible through the ECSS accounts.

The submitted abstracts represent a wide range of topics, from sport medicine and physiology, biomechanics and neuromuscular, and social sciences and humanities. The multi- and interdisciplinary nature of the ECSS congress will once again be highlighted in these sessions, and especially in the invited programme of the congress.
