

Publishing tips to help you succeed!

Your official invite to a publishing workshop

Dear ECSS member,

You are invited to attend a publishing workshop at the 2017 ECSS Congress, 5-8 July in Essen, Germany. There will be two parts to this exciting and useful workshop:

Part 1 will include an introduction to journal publishing, tips for authors to succeed, the peer review process, citation metrics, social media, and open access.

Part 2 will be a Q&A with Academic Editors (European Journal of Sport Science), Taylor & Francis publisher, and ECSS Publishing Consultant.

You will leave the workshop with:

- Guidance on what you need to do before submitting your paper
- Information about the publishing process and what to expect
- Information about the peer review process and what to expect
- Tips on how to get your work published
- Journal metrics and their meaning
- Examples of how social media can benefit your work
- The latest information on open access publishing
- Writing tips, do's and don'ts
- Details of publishing services available to authors
- Publishing ethics and what to be aware of
- Useful checklists.

Please complete the workshop survey by 16 June 2017.

Speakers and presenters:

Publisher: Alejandra Leach-Núñez, Routledge, Taylor & Francis

Academic Editors: Prof. Andrew Jones, Dr. Anni Vanhatalo, Dr. Sharief Hendricks

Moderator and Chair: Kate Nuttall, ECSS Publishing Consultant

Where and when:

Wednesday, 5 July 2017

10:30am – 12pm

Room Brüssel/West

Part 1 approx. 1 hour

- Introduction
- Publishing in academic journals
- Tips for authors to succeed

- The peer review process
- Citation metrics
- Social media
- Open Access

Part 2 approx. 30 mins

- Q&A with Academic Editors, Publisher and ECSS Publishing Consultant
- Workshop summary and informal networking.